ANNOUNCEMENT

WERKVERTRAG: Digital Linguistic Atlas of Scotland

I am looking for a student research assistant to work with me on the preparation of the database for a new digitised Linguistic Atlas of Scotland.

The work requires the raw data for 180 maps to be inputted into a database, according to Guidelines which I have drawn up.

The work may start any time but has to be completed by 30 June 2019.

An applicant must be a registered student at the Universität Wien.

Remuneration will be by map: EUR 15,00 per map, so a total of EUR 2.700,00 is available. The work may be divided among more than one assistant.

Applications, in the form of a statement of interest and suitability, together with a brief CV, are invited by 18.00 on 14 March 2019, by email to me at john.kirk@univie.ac.at Informal enquiries are welcome.
